

Deciding Game of High School Series Is

TEAMS OF WESTERN AND CENTRAL HIGH
TO MEET FOR TITLE

Game at Railroad Grounds
Tomorrow Has Promise of Battle.

Western and Central will meet at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. baseball field tomorrow afternoon in the game which is expected to settle the championship of the high schools of this city. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

The game was set for today, but because of a special regimental drill this afternoon it was decided to postpone the contest until tomorrow, in order that all the students may be able to be present.

Those who have followed the teams closely are looking for a pitchers' battle between Captain Bostler, of Central, and "Lefty" Holden, of Western, both of whom have performed most creditably in the championship contests up to this time.

Both teams will wind up their preparation today.

Suburban League.
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Parkview, 2; Petworth, 1.

Before a crowd which surpassed any which has previously attended a game in the Suburban League, the Parkview aggregation loved the colors of the strong Petworth team, score 3 to 1.

Lee Hilleary, the twirler who did the honors for the winners, was a excellent form, holding his opponents to five scattered hits and issuing only two free tickets to first.

Birch, while not in his usual form, twirled a good game, and two of Parkview's runs would not have been made had his teammates accorded him perfect support.

Parkview scored first in the opening round. Reynolds was passed and stole second, scoring a moment later when Check Maddox poked a beauty to the trees in right field for a double.

In the third Petworth gained her only tally, made possible by an error. With one down, Fague singled cleanly to center and was advanced a base by Plunkett's neat sacrifice, scoring when Nau threw Dempsey's offering to the net.

Much to the delight of their numerous supporters, Parkview regained the lead in the fifth. Miller singled, stole second and scored when Nau's hit took a false bound over Dempsey's head.

Dempsey pulled off the star play of the game when he leaped high in the air for Miller's line drive over second, getting the ball with one hand and doubling Hilleary at first.

Mr. Grubb made his initial bow as official umpire of the league and although his decisions were not the cause of many protests, the frequent interruptions for useless arguments which he allowed were not to the liking of the spectators.

Olympia League.
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Sligo, 10; White Haven, 10.

By a furious batting rally in the last of the seventh, White Haven yesterday scored four runs and tied up the game against Sligo. The game was called on account of darkness with the score, 10 to 10.

Yesterday's game saw the hardest hitting of the season. There was but one fluke hit in the entire game, the rest being hit right on the nose for clean drives.

An idea as to the hitting can be seen in the number of extra bases. There were no less than eight triples, and three doubles.

That seventh inning rally almost gave the Sligo rotters heart failure. One double, three triples a single and an error let four runs over, and tied things up.

Howard, H. Sherrer, and Wood each got a brace of three baggers. Howard and Wood each connected for three hits.

A meeting of the league is to be held this evening at 7:30 at President Capp's offices.

It is rumored that Braddock will protest last Saturday's game against Southland on account of the southwest boys playing an ineligible player.

TODAY—Sewage Pumping Station vs. Eastern A. C., North Capitol and L streets.

Errors by Navy Yard yesterday lost one of the most exciting games played in the circuit, and Cornell Company won out by 4 to 2.

Jimmy Kerr, for the winners, pitched a fine game. The veteran has had little work in the box this season, but did all that could be expected of him.

Cornell was out-hit by the Navy Yard men, but played an excellent fielding game, handling everything cleanly.

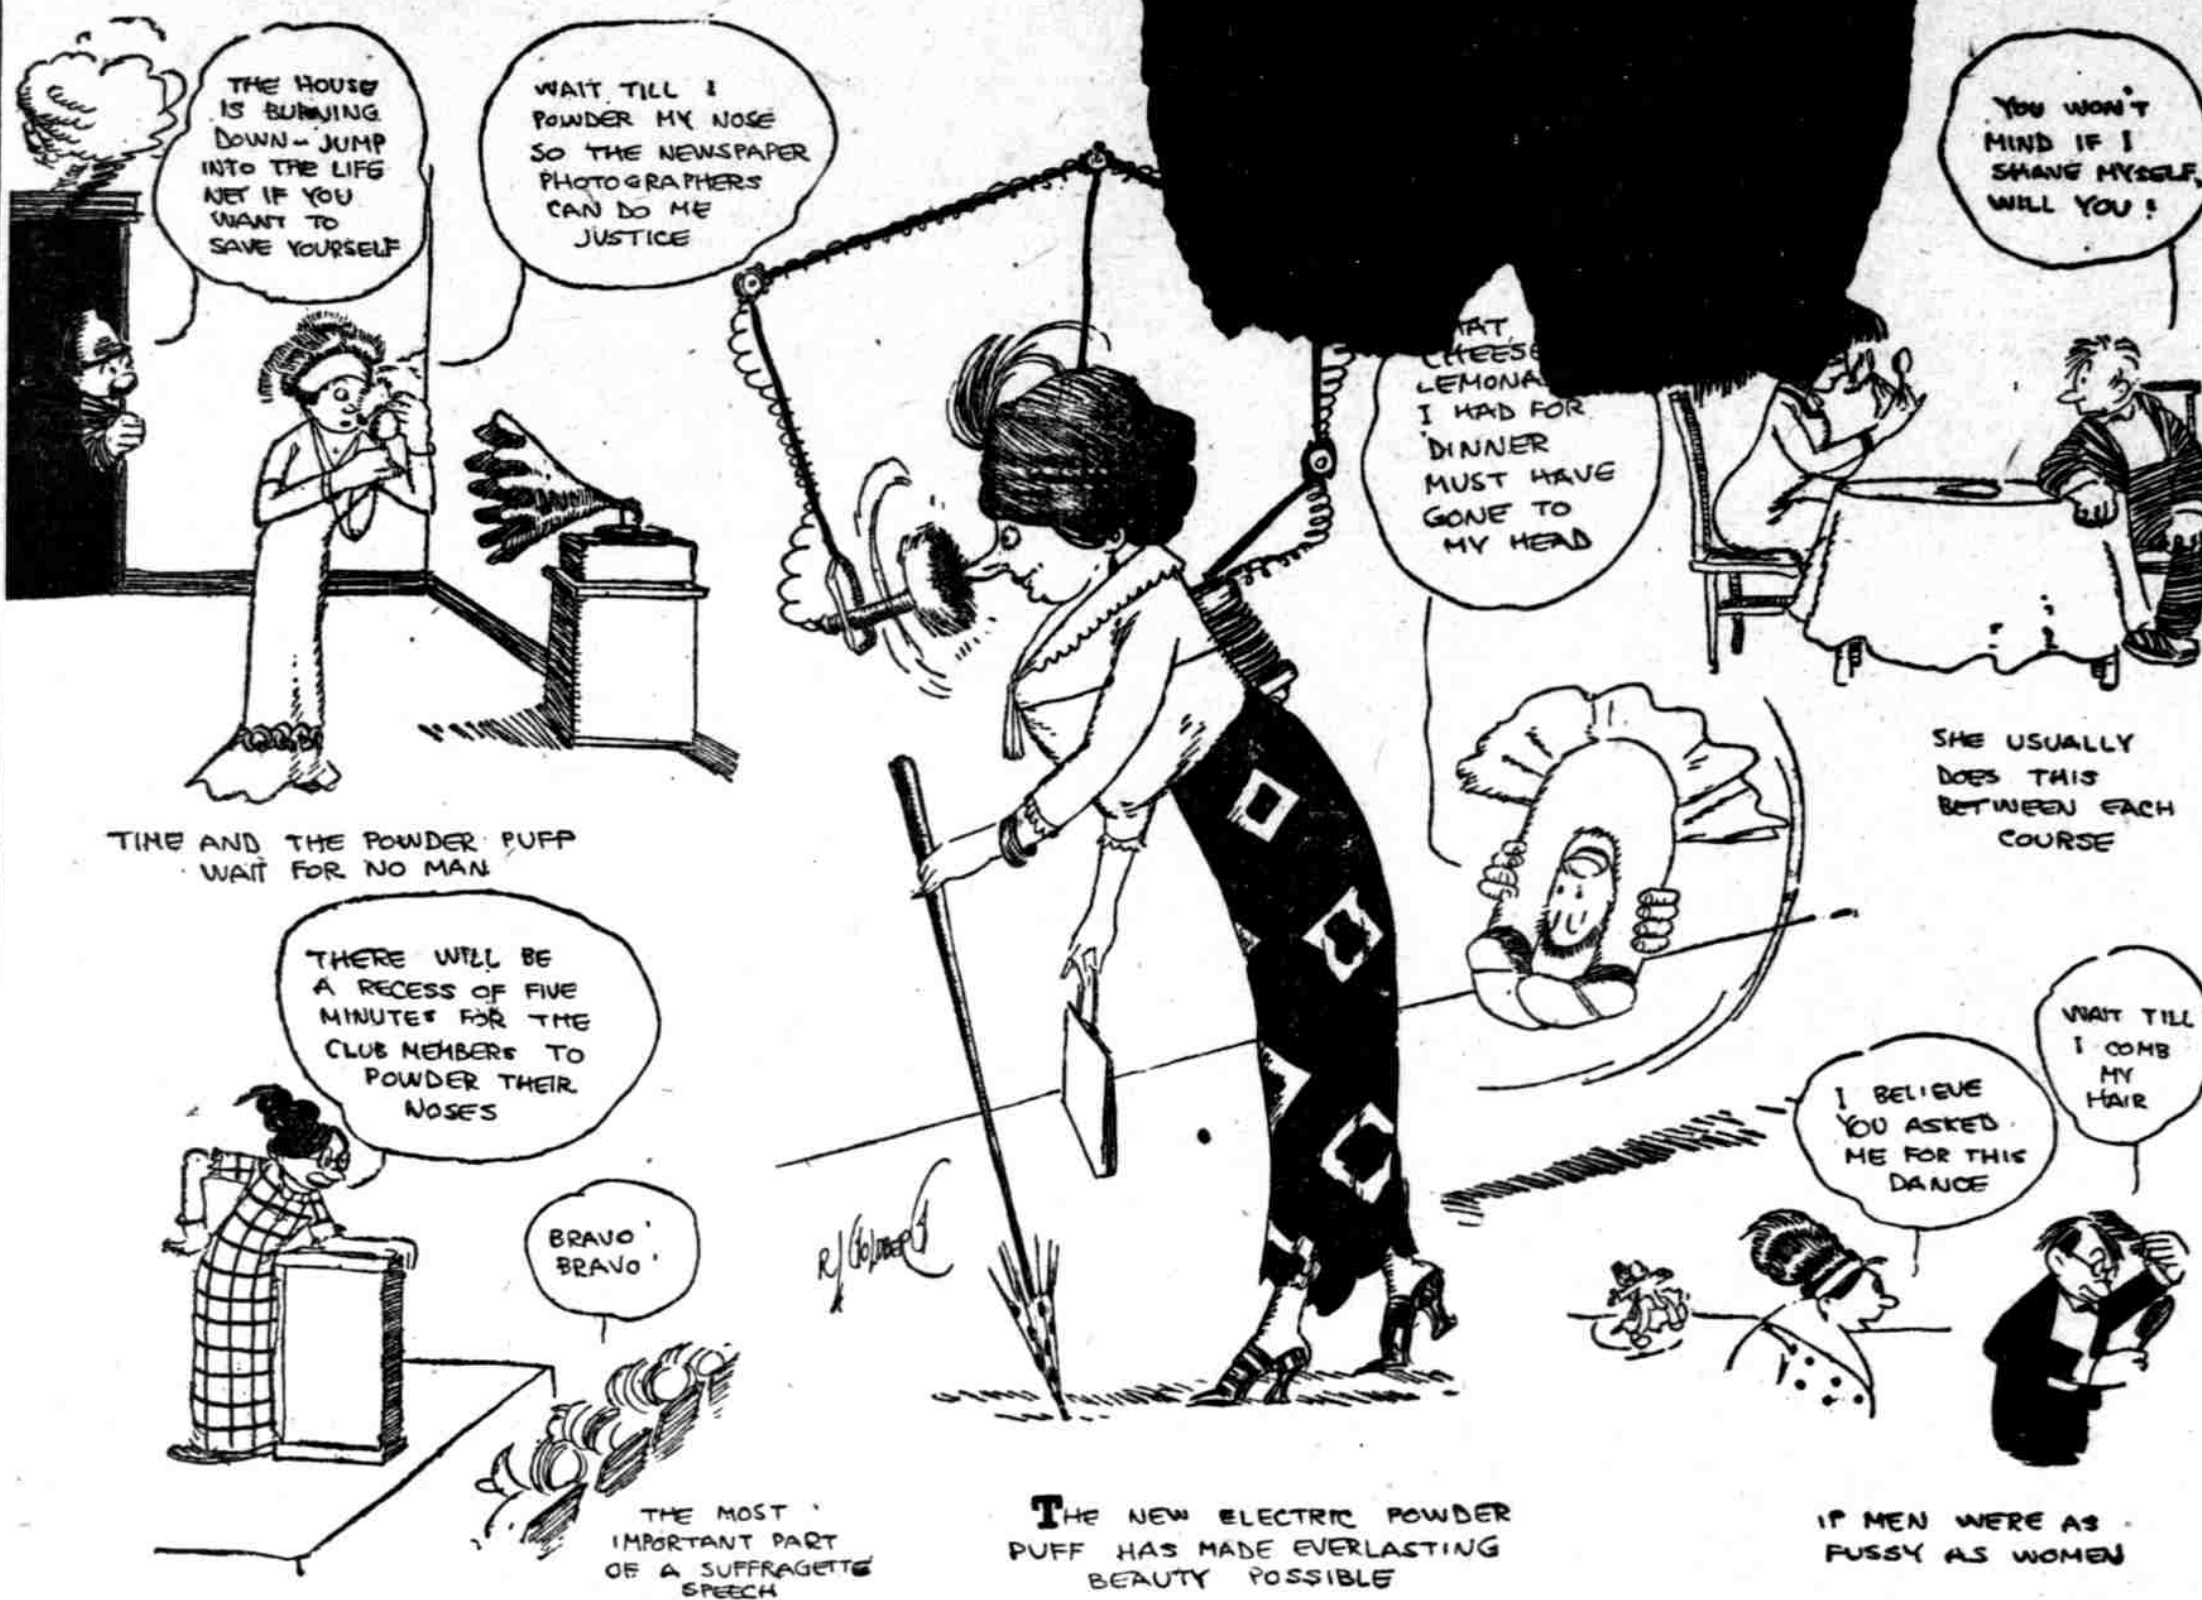

Navy Yard fell down at critical stages, totaling six errors in all.

With any sort of support, Becker might have won. The pitcher did well, but could not rely on his team. Both twirlers worked the batters, as Becker got eight strike-outs to Kerr's eleven.

There were five doubles yesterday, which seemed to show that hitting is on the increase. But one hit for an extra base was made in the last game played. Four double plays attended to the road work in the field.

TODAY—Aloysius vs. Congressionals, First and M streets northwest.

Yesterday's game between the Aloysius and Congressionals is going to be a lively battle and the crowd can expect a good game.

"Hope" Falconer connected for a homer and a double. The former Tech High youngster hits long ones.

"Lefty" Wooden was indisposed and retired in favor of "Al" Handiboe.

Heck plays a good game wherever he is put, either in the outfield or infield or behind the bat.

Bill Handiboe went hitless for the first time in several games.

Anderson got away with three stolen bases on Woodward.

Adams cleanly out-hit and out-fielded the Commissioners and then got the worst of the breaks of luck.

TODAY—B. & O. vs. Shops, Fifth street and Florida avenue northeast.

There was no game yesterday and last week but one was recorded on the league standing.

Today Baltimore and Ohio is scheduled to meet Shops, but judging from past experience there will be little doing in the game line, as it is unlikely the teams will get out in time.

The high school championship game between Central and Western is carded for the league grounds tomorrow. It was thought that the game would be played on the Georgetown Field, but the advisers have so far made arrangements to hold it at Fifth and Florida avenue.

Owing to its being a deciding game, it is more than likely that the grounds will be taxed to the fullest capacity. In fact, every indication points to the largest crowd in the history of the field.

President Bond seems to be longer on promises than in getting the games started. Every hope is held out that the league will be gotten under way in the near future.

The fans who support the league by attendance are getting put out on account of the non-appearance of teams scheduled. While the league does not take up a collection the fans feel that they are being robbed of many good games.

Revised Bank Teams
Strong for New Start

American Security and Trust, Commercial, District National, and Second Washington, and the First National Bank will comprise the revised roster of the Bankers League, which is scheduled to start tomorrow.

The First National team has been reorganized and is taking the place of the Washington Loan and Trust team, with its standing in the league.

All other team standings will remain as formerly, and the revised schedule will be played off. Details were finally completed at a meeting of the league, and from indications the circuit will be more evenly balanced than before. Commercial National and the Second Washington team are scheduled to open tomorrow.

Washington Teams.

Eating Onions.

Onions are sometimes omitted from the family bill of fare for social reasons. As a favoring there is no vegetable equal to the onion and as an article of diet it is one of the most important.

Games, as a rule, lately have not been evenly contested, scores being one-sided.

The batting honors were carried by Holloran, St. Stephen's second sacker, he safely connecting for four bingles out of as many trips to the plate. He felled his position in big league style and taking two difficult fly balls that looked good for extra sacks had they passed.

The fielding of Evans and Lemerle was worthy of notice. Both performed creditably.

TODAY—Co. K vs. Tenleytown, Thirty-fifth street and Wisconsin avenue.

Naval Medico lost its stride yesterday and dropped their first game to St. Stephens 10 to 2.

The game was a fast one throughout the seven innings, but the students were over-confident and made several misplays which proved costly to them.

Lawrence, the boy who has been playing great ball at second for the Medicos, had a bad day and did not field in his usual style, making two of the five errors registered against his team. His hitting was not below the average, as he connected for a safe three-sacker out of two trips to the plate.

Naval's new twirler, Rice, pitched a great game, and although he was wild in the first part of the contest, he soon settled down and struck out ten men.

The Doctors have a great backstop in Watson, he fielding his position in great style and taking two difficult fly foul balls with ease.
